

ANONYMITY

At VetPowerment we take anonymity very seriously. Both management and your teammates know what you think but never who you are.

How Do We Ensure Anonymity?

- We require a minimum of 6 answers in order to obscure the respondent.
- Individual answers are never displayed.
- Only aggregated results are presented in reports to give managers a sense of what's going on with their team.

3 Simple Tips

- 1 Always be professional in any comments you make. Even if they're anonymous.
- 2 Never use discriminative or profane language.
- 3 Do not use other people's names in your comments.

“Give them a mask, and they will tell you the truth.”
